offers campus rentals to groups, organizations, or individuals working in the arts or sciences or in related fields such as journalism, the humanities, environmental policy and advocacy, or art and science education. Renters can use the campus for their own revenue earning events (such as workshops, conferences, fundraisers, etc.), or to foster a creative setting for their own programming. Groups, organizations or individuals without a direct connection to PLAYA’s mission may be accommodated on a space-available basis.

OUR SPACIOUS CAMPUS offers cabins and studios nestled against the base of Winter Rim and facing the wide-open expanse of Summer Lake and its playa.

PLAYA’s location and rural setting is a natural incubator for creative breakthroughs and personal growth.

Playa is uniquely positioned for programming and contemplation due the following factors:

• The remote setting offers freedom from distraction and allows immersion in the inspiring Great Basin landscape
• The surroundings provide a living high desert laboratory.
• The setting fosters connection between urban and rural communities through shared respect for place.
• The openness of the elemental landscape inspires new ways of thinking at the nexus of art and science.
• Our rich ten year history of creative work by resident alumni artists and scientists.

PLAYA BELIEVES

1. The influence of science and art on one another leads to powerful progress in both disciplines.
2. Place based programming is a strong way to engage and activate community.
3. The power in the intersection of Art and Science arises from the synergy in these different ways of understanding and describing the world.
4. If human society is to maintain a vibrancy of culture and biodiversity, it needs new ways of seeing the world.
